

HMW – Regression Bug

Perfective change type:

1. Some users require a "dark mode" when using the application.
2. A button is added to the settings that changes backgrounds to dark.
3. The writings become difficult to see because they are also dark.
4. I set out to test only the background change, not the interaction with the text.
5. Reasonably, changing the background color should also change the text color.
